A word about Site Location and Preparation

When choosing a site start with these three things

- 1) Town Code Requirements: All towns have regulations pertaining to sheds, some more stringent than others. Please check with your Building Dept. for specifics.
- 2) Ease of access: This means for you and also for our delivery truck.
- 3) How level is the site: The location you choose should be as level as possible to start. We suggest a crushed stone pad for your shed to be placed on. This will help keep your shed level with good drainage and minimize back splash from roof runoff.

Please read our Site Preparation guide for more detailed information. You can find it online at Backyardshedco.com under "things to know and forms".
